Ragged Edge Studio

Lise Toch

Lise Toch of the Ragged Edge Studio spoke to our club about her background, and what the Ragged Edge Studio in Cohoes does. She is a native of Montréal. Lise moved to the capital district area 38 years ago, and worked for over 30 years as a social worker. When she retired she took several classes in painting and printmaking, after which she started the Ragged Edge Studio at 137 Remson Street in Cohoes.

The Ragged Edge Studio came from the belief that everyone has the right to express themselves thru their art. They encourage students to draw or paint a picture which is then printed on a printing press. Lise showed us several examples of paintings and drawing that students had done.

The classical etching process uses very corrosive acids whereby a copper plate is etched with sharp tools, inked and then dipped in acid. Copper plates are quite expensive; therefore Lise gets leftover pieces of copper from a roofer. Their printing is done on a Martech etching press that measures 32" x51".

Lise and her partner, Kathy Klompas, decided to use a "greener" approach to etching and printmaking in general. They visited a green printmaking studio called Zea Mays in Massachusetts. They are busy implementing green art process wherever they can. They also installed a sophisticated exhaust system to be doubly sure, and use much friendlier acid.

They will have classes in printmaking. People will learn the process, and come to the studio to do their own printing. These classes will also be opened to high school students.

In the summer of 2010, The Ragged Edge Studio will be sponsor ten children to attend an art summer camp. If any of you would like to sponsor a child, please let Lise know. She can be contacted at lisettoch@yahoo.com or at 817-3054.
